JUNE 2009

STATE OF NORTH DAKOTA

CJIS has a New Look

CJIS Web Site

Check out CJIS's new look at www.nd.gov/cjis. There are new and exciting items added. If you click on the training link on the left menu you will find training videos and an area to sign up for training classes. More videos will be added in the upcoming months. If you have a suggestion for a training video please send us an email at cjis@nd.gov.

Other things you will find is the most current Portal applications and all the CJIS Board and Executive Committee Minutes since 2007. This will help keep you updated on the direction CJIS is going.

CJIS Portal

Some of the changes that happened in the May 20th roll-out may seem dramatic at first glance. The first change is the new "ND GOV Single-Sign On" Service Page. Yes, this is the correct page for Portal Users to use to log into the CJIS Portal.

Once users enter their credentials, they will be brought to the newly designed CJIS Portal.

Another new feature at My CJIS, is allowing users to delete multiple notifications at once. A few months ago CJIS allowed users to set up notifications. Sometimes the criteria will return multiple notices in a 24 hour period. This new feature allows users to select and to delete notifications. Below is a screen shot of this feature.

The State's Attorney Records System (STARS) is an records management system, which was procured by CJIS in 2004 to provide a centralized web based system for interested states attorneys in the State of North Dakota. Currently six counties, which encompass approximately 60% of the state's population, are using the software. The data is housed centrally at Information Technology Department (ITD) and is deployed state wide. The following counties are currently using the software:

Barnes County State's Attorney's Office

Burleigh County State's Attorney's Office

Cass County State's Attorney's Office

Grand Forks County State's Attorney's Office

Mountrail County State's Attorney's Office

Ward County State's Attorney's Office

CJIS is the designated agency to work with the vendor, New Dawn Technologies to implement the approved upgrade to Justware 5.0. This upgrade is a mutual decision of the six counties utilizing the software. CJIS will contract with New Dawn Technologies to upgrade Justware Prosecutor 4.6 to Justware Prosecutor 5.0 for all agencies currently using the software. Deliverables in the contract are:

- New Dawn will train all users (State Administrators, Office Administrators and End-Users)
- Upgrade Justware product
- Implement scanning functionality
- Assist current agencies in implementing email and calendaring integration and functionality.
- Replace existing hardware

How to apply for access to CJIS Portal, LERMS and STARS

Only a criminal justice agency with an assigned Originating Agency Identification (ORI) number may obtain access.

The agency is required to sign a Security Access Agreement. In addition a user agreement and two sets of fingerprints, on the blue FBI applicant cards, are needed for each individual requesting access. All forms can be found at <http://www.nd.gov/cjis> then click on "portal".

Each agency is required to sign a 3 year agreement as well as provide a list of all users needing access. This system is offered at $25 a month per full time officer. This fee will include training and support. Contact the CJIS staff for appropriate forms.

Each agency is required to sign a 3 year Agreement as well as provide a list of all users needing access. This system is offered at $50 per month, per individual user and will include training and support. Contact the CJIS staff for appropriate forms.

If you have questions or would like to start the application process please contact CJIS at 701-328-1110.
